ALL NATIONS WELCOME, EXCEPT CARRIE

At the turn of the 20th century, 6' tall KY-born Carrie Nation ravaged bars across America. Wielding a hatchet, she claimed a divine ordinance to promote temperance by smashing any tavern or saloon that she encountered. From 1900–1910, Carrie was arrested 30 times for her 'hatchetations' until she arrived in Cincinnati.

Upon arrival, Carrie took one step onto Vine Street, turned around and left. When asked why she did not follow her usual path of destruction, Carrie's response was, "I would have dropped from exhaustion before I went one block for all the bars in this city."

Nation serves as a tribute to the rich history of this city. Pull up a stool. Join the Nation.
